

OF ORGANIZATIONS, THERE ARE THREE KINDS.

First, there are those that are based upon the power, wealth or authority of great leaders.

Second, there are those that are organized based on the convenience of the members; and they will continue to exist for as long as it meets the member's needs.

Third, there are those that are organized with some good teaching as its center and harmony as its very life.

Of course, the third or last of these is the only true organization, for in it the members live in one spirit, from which the unity of spirit and various kinds of virtue will arise. In such an organization there will prevail harmony, satisfaction and happiness.
